- Eliminate discrimination and other conduct that is prohibited by the Equality Act 2010
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it
- Foster good relations across all characteristics between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it

2. Legislation and guidance

This document meets the requirements under the following legislation:

- The Equality Act 2010, which introduced the Public Sector Equality Duty and protects people from discrimination
- The Equality Act 2010 (Specific Duties) Regulations 2011, which require schools to publish information to demonstrate how they are complying with the Public Sector Equality Duty and to publish equality objectives

This document is also based on Department for Education (DfE) guidance: The Equality Act 2010 and schools.

The governing board will:

All school staff are expected to have regard to this document and to work to achieve the objectives as set out in section 8.

4. Eliminating discrimination

The school is aware of its obligations under the Equality Act 2010 and complies with non-discrimination provisions.

Where relevant, our policies include reference to the importance of avoiding discrimination and other prohibited conduct.

Staff and governors are regularly reminded of their responsibilities under the Equality Act – for example, during meetings. Where this has been discussed during a meeting it is recorded in the meeting minutes.

New staff receive training on the Equality Act as part of their induction, and all staff receive refresher training every year.

The school has a designated member of staff for monitoring equality issues, and an equality link governor. They regularly liaise regarding any issues and make senior leaders and governors aware of these as appropriate.

5. Advancing equality of opportunity

As set out in the DfE guidance on the Equality Act, the school aims to advance equality of opportunity by:

- Removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by people that are connected to a particular characteristic they have (e.g. pupils with disabilities)
- Taking steps to meet the particular needs of people who have a particular characteristic (e.g. enabling Muslim staff to pray at prescribed times)
- Encouraging people who have a particular characteristic to participate fully in any activities (e.g. ensuring all pupils have access to the full curriculum offer)

In fulfilling this aspect of the duty, the school will:

- Analyse data to determine strengths and areas for improvement, implement actions in response and publish this information
- Make evidence available identifying improvements for specific groups (e.g. declines in incidents of homophobic bullying)

6. Fostering good relations

The school aims to foster good relations between those who share a protected characteristic and those who do not share it by:

- Promoting tolerance, friendship and understanding of a range of religions and cultures through different aspects of our curriculum. This includes teaching in RE, citizenship and personal, social, health education (PSHE), but also activities in other curriculum areas. For example, as part of teaching and learning in English/reading, pupils will be introduced to literature from a range of cultures
- Holding assemblies dealing with relevant issues. Pupils will be encouraged to take a lead in such assemblies and we will also invite external speakers to contribute
- Working with our local community. This includes inviting leaders of local faith groups to speak at assemblies, and organising school trips and activities based around the local community
- Encouraging and implementing initiatives to deal with tensions between different groups of pupils within the school. For example, our school council has representatives from different year groups and is formed of pupils from a range of backgrounds. All pupils are encouraged to participate in the school's activities, such as sports clubs. We also work with parents to promote knowledge and understanding of different cultures

7. Equality considerations in decision-making

The school ensures it has due regard to equality considerations whenever significant decisions are made.

The school always considers the impact of significant decisions on particular groups. For example, when a school trip or activity is being planned, the school considers whether the trip:

- · Cuts across any religious holidays
- Is accessible to pupils with disabilities
- · Has equivalent facilities for boys and girls

The risk assessment for each activity evidences how the equality considerations have been taken into account when an activity or visit is planned.

8. Equality objectives

Objective 1

To develop communication systems to ensure that all members of the community are able to access all necessary information.

Why we have chosen this objective: As a community representing a wide range of cultures and languages, we want to make sure that our communication is as accessible and clear as possible. This will improve engagement and ensure that all members of the school community are working together effectively.

To achieve this objective we plan to: keep communication as a central school objective and work with the community to judge the success of our communication strategies.

Progress we are making towards this objective: So far we have increased the frequency and consistency of communication and tried to keep communication through a central channel. Launched a new website to keep information finding easier and more straight forward.

Objective 2

Continue to raise the profile of all faiths represented in King's Oak through assemblies, displays, newsletters, social media, workshops and visits to places of worship.

Why we have chosen this objective: We want the school to be a full representation of the community that we serve and to ensure that all faiths within it are made to feel significant and celebrated. Expertise from all stakeholders will be shared and valued.

To achieve this objective we plan to: Work to foster greater links within the school community and with faith groups in our local area. Become more outward looking to ensure that we gain the best possible opportunities from groups in the local community. Invite more representatives into school to share ideas, knowledge and inspiration.

Progress we are making towards this objective: Post Covid return to full range of educational visits including to places of worship. Enhanced links with local churches and religious buildings. Invitation to assemblies for wider range of faiths.
